APD Solutions and Synch-Solutions Launch an All-In-One Human and Technology Solution for NSP Recipients

CHICAGO, Sept. 11 -- APD Solutions, an Atlanta-based National Neighborhood Revitalization Firm, has established a strategic partnership with Synch-Solutions as a technology partner to offer a comprehensive solution for the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) funding recipients.

The NSP was established to stabilize communities that have suffered foreclosures and property abandonments. APD Solutions provides comprehensive community development consulting and real estate services to ensure the success of state and local governments in upgrading their communities and providing rental and home-ownership opportunities for citizens in need of affordable solutions. APD Solutions has been selected to provide management and implementation services for several NSPs across the country. They are also offering training and consulting services for other NSP funding recipients and local partners.

"We have found our clients not only need the human expertise and best practices we provide but technology can be a big part of the NSP equation as well," said Vaughn D. Irons, CEO of APD Solutions. "We feel strongly that our new strategic alliance with Synch-Solutions will provide our current and future clients with the most complete approach to their NSP management and compliance needs."

A major issue for NSP direct and sub-recipients is accurate reporting and compliance capabilities. Synch-Solutions, a technology solutions firm, has provided a robust, user-friendly NSP monitoring and reporting application, called NSP Tracker, which enables efficient and effective use of grant money, and federal reporting in full compliance with regulations. NSP Tracker is the first system of this type specifically designed for the NSP.

"Whether working with our client organizations to leverage technology for transformation or within our communities to make a socioeconomic difference, our mission is to elevate value," says John Sterling, CEO of Synch-Solutions. "We are delighted to align our efforts with APD Solutions to add support to their outstanding community and real estate development work and bring more value to NSP managers."

Municipalities requiring NSP consulting, implementation or compliance support can contact APD Solutions at (877) 276-APDS or www.apdsolutions.com and Synch-Solutions at (312) 252-3700 or www.synch-solutions.com.
